KEY POINTS

A SEASON SUMMARY

New York City FC has stepped up to the task in big moments throughout this 2025 MLS Regular season.

- With a win against Seattle Sounders FC in New York City's upcoming match, New York City would equal their highest ever win total in Club history with 18.
 - The team won 18 matches in the 2019 MLS Regular Season.
- With his 17 wins, Head Coach Pascal Jansen is one win away from tying the Club record of most wins attained by a head coach in a single season with 18.
 - This record is held by former Head Coach Domènec Torrent, who recorded 18 wins with the Club in the 2019 MLS Regular Season.
- New York City has been on a good run of form in their last ten matches, having posted a record of 7-3-0 (W-L-D).
 - During the first seven games of this stretch, New York City only lost once.
 - The Club went on two, three-game winning streak over the span of these seven matches.
 - First, the Club then won three in a row, beating FC Dallas 4-3 at Toyota Stadium on July 25, 2025, downing Nashville SC 2-1 at Yankee Stadium on August 17, 2025, and shutting out FC Cincinnati 1-0 at TQL Stadium on August 23, 2025.
 - After a 2-1 loss to D.C. United at Yankee Stadium on August 30, 2025, the Club won three more matches in a row, defeating Chicago Fire FC 3-1 at Soldier Field on September 13, 2025, downing the Columbus Crew 3-2 at Yankee Stadium on September 17, 2025, and shutting out Charlotte FC 2-0 at Yankee Stadium on September 20, 2025.
 - The seventh and most recent win for New York City over the Club's last ten matches was a 3-2 Hudson River Derby victory against the Red Bulls at Sports Illustrated Stadium on September 27, 2025.
 - The Club swept (winning two games against an opponent in a single MLS Regular Season) the Red Bulls this MLS Regular Season. The team's other win against the Red Bulls was a 2-0 clean sheet at Citi Field on May 17, 2025.
 - New York City has swept the Red Bulls in consecutive MLS Regular seasons, doing so in 2024 and 2025. The Club also swept the Red Bulls in the 2022 MLS Regular Season.
 - They have swept the Red Bulls the second most times in Club history, doing so three times (along with Toronto).
 - Cincinnati was swept the most, having been swept four times.
 - This was the Club's fifth sweep of this MLS Regular Season. These five sweeps in a single MLS Regular Season is a Club record.
- In the 2025 MLS Regular Season, New York City has faced 14 opponents who were ranked above them in the MLS standings at the time of the match, and 18 opponents who were ranked below them. Their opening match of the season, a 2-2 draw against Inter Miami CF, is not included, as neither team held a higher position in the standings at that point.
 - Against opponents ranked above them in the MLS standings when entering the match, New York City holds a record of 9-3-2. The Club has scored 19 goals, conceded 11 and recorded six clean sheets.
 - Against opponents ranked below them in the MLS standings when entering the match, New York City holds a .500 record of 8-8-2. The Club has scored 28 goals, conceded 29 and recorded three clean sheets.
- In MLS play (regular season and playoffs), New York City FC holds a 20-3-3 all-time record when Forward Alonso Martínez scores at least once. Across those matches, New York City FC has tallied 61 total goals and Martínez has tallied 34.
- In the 2024 MLS season (including playoffs), Martínez appeared in 30 matches and scored 17 goals.
 - When he scored, New York City posted an 8-2-2 record and totaled 31 goals across those matches.
- Thus far in the 2025 MLS regular season, Martínez has played in 29 matches and scored 17 goals.
 - When he has found the net, New York City holds a 12-1-1 record, with 30 goals scored in those games.
 - The Club has also won the last 10 straight matches in which Martínez has scored, a streak dating back to April 12, 2025, against the Philadelphia Union.
 - This streak ranks second all-time for this stat with Martínez scoring 13 of the team's 21 goals during this stretch.
 - Martínez's streak beat Former Defender Anton Tinnerholm on September 20, 2025, against Charlotte FC. Tinnerholm had a nine-game win streak (03/11/2018-10/03/2020), scoring nine of the team's 23 goals.
 - Moralez holds the longest win streak with 17 games (03/04/2018-07/25/2021), scoring 18 of the team's 49 goals.
 - This streak also ranks for fifth most in longest unbeaten runs when a New York City FC player scores. Martínez is tied with Valentín Castellanos for this feat.
 - Castellanos streak dates from August 4, 2018 to October 7, 2020. Within this streak Castellanos scored 13 of the team's 25 goals.

- When playing on the road, New York City FC is on a five-game winning streak for when Martínez scores, dating back to April 26, 2025.
 - Martínez has scored a total of seven of the Club's 11 goals during this stretch (04/26/25-9/13/25).
- At home, the 'Boys in Blue' are currently on a 10-match winning streak when Martínez scores, dating back to October 2, 2024.
 - For this statistic, Martínez is ranked sole-third. He surpassed Keaton Parks' (nine match winning streak) record on September 20, 2025, against Charlotte.
 - Martínez has scored 11 of the Club's 23 goals during this stretch (10/02/2024-08/17/2025).
 - Parks scored nine of the Club's 27 goals during his streak (09/14/2019-04/27/2024).
 - Moralez ranks second with a 12-game streak (03/17/2018-07/25/2021), scoring 13 of the team's 39 goals.
 - Former Forward Valentín Castellanos ranks first with a 13-game streak (4/24/2019-10/27/2021), scoring 20 of the team's 43 goals.
 - This streak both began and ended with clean sheet victories for New York City FC. The streak started with a 1-0 win against Chicago Fire FC on April 24, 2019, and ended with a 1-0 win against Chicago on October 27, 2021.
- Lastly, when Martínez scores two or more goals, New York City FC has a record of five wins and one draw. Additionally, in those matches New York City has tallied 20 goals, almost triple their seven goals conceded.
 - When Martínez scores two or more goals he encompasses a total of 14 goals.
 - The matches he scored two or more goals include a 5-1 win against San Jose Earthquakes (5/31/24), a 2-0 win against CF Montréal (7/3/24), a 2-2 draw against Chicago (8/24/24), a 5-1 win against the New York Red Bulls (9/28/24), a 4-3 win against Dallas (7/25/25), and a 2-0 win against Charlotte.

QUALITY IN QUEENS

New York City heads back to Queens at Citi Field for their Decision Day matchup against Seattle Sounders FC.

- New York City's record at home stands at 11-5-0 (W-L-D). This ranks as the sixth-best home record in MLS, with New York City FC level on 33 points with the New York Red Bulls.
- This will be the fifth match for the team at Citi Field in this MLS Regular Season and the Club's last MLS Regular Season and home match.
 - The Club has gone 3-1-0 at Citi Field this MLS Regular Season.
 - At Yankee Stadium, the Club went 8-4-0.
 - The four matches at Citi Field were played against the following opponents this MLS Regular Season: clean sheet, 1-0 wins against Philadelphia and Cincinnati, a 2-0 shutout against the Red Bulls, and a 4-0 loss to Inter Miami.
- The team's overall Citi Field record during the MLS Regular Season is 12-4-6.

 - The last time the two teams faced off was in the 2019 MLS Regular Season.
- All-time in the MLS Regular Season, New York City has a positive record against Seattle, going 3-2-0. At home, New York City is also in the plus column at 2-1-0. On the road, New York City has a winning percentage of .500 with a record of 1-1-0.
- Since the inaugural matchup between these two teams on May 3, 2015, in a 3-1 New York City defeat at Yankee Stadium, New York City has only lost to Seattle once. New York City has won three of the last four matchups.
 - New York City won the most recent matchup, shutting out Seattle 3-0 at Yankee Stadium on July 3, 2019.
 - New York City also shut out Seattle at Lumen Field 2-0 on June 25, 2016.
 - New York City has never been held scoreless by Seattle.
 - In addition to these shutouts, New York City defeated Seattle 2-1 at Yankee Stadium on June 17, 2017.
 - With a victory, New York City will look to win two in a row against Seattle.
 - They achieved this feat with a 2-0 shut out at Lumen Field on June 25, 2016, and a 2-1 win at Yankee Stadium on June 17, 2017.
 - If the Club records a shutout, it will be the first time the team has shutout Seattle in consecutive matches. They shut out Seattle in their most recent matchup in a 3-0 win at Yankee Stadium on July 3, 2019.
- Midfielder Maxi Morales is the only current player to have recorded a goal contribution against Seattle (1G).
 - Morales scored the game-winning goal in New York City's most recent matchup against Seattle, a 3-0 clean sheet at Yankee Stadium on July 3, 2019.
 - All time against Seattle, Morales ranks in a tie for first in game-winning goals scored for the Club. He is only one of three players to score a game-winning goal.
 - The other two players to have scored a game-winning goal against Seattle are former Midfielder Frank Lampard and former Forward David Villa.
 - All-time against Seattle, Morales ranks in a tie for second in goals scored for the Club. He is only one of seven players to score at least one goal.

DISCIPLINE SUMMARY

COMPETITION GUIDELINES

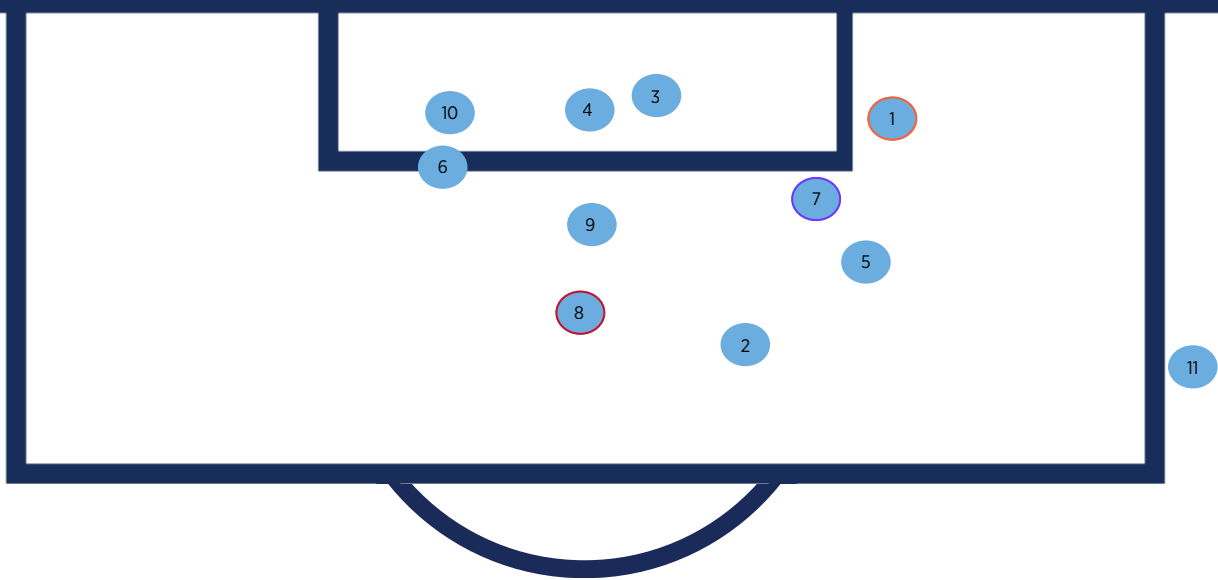

REGULAR SEASON CAUTIONS AND SUSPENSIONS: Fines and suspensions will be levied against players for yellow card accumulations during the Regular Season as follows:

- Player accrues five yellow cards: $250 fine and a suspension from his next MLS Regular Season match.
- Player accrues an additional three yellow cards (eight total): $500 fine and a suspension from his next MLS Regular Season match.
- Player accrues an additional three yellow cards (11 total): $750 fine and a suspension from his next MLS Regular Season match.
- Player accrues an additional two yellow cards (13 total): $1,000 fine and a suspension from his next MLS Regular Season match.
- For each two yellow cards after the player's fourth suspension, the player will be suspended from his next MLS Regular Season match and his fine will be doubled (e.g., fifth yellow card accumulation suspension: $2,000 fine)

GOOD BEHAVIOR INCENTIVE: A player will automatically reduce his yellow card accumulation total by one yellow card each time he appears in five consecutive matches without receiving a yellow card, red card or supplemental discipline in such matches. For clarity, a player cannot have a negative yellow card accumulation total; the Good Behavior Incentive can only reset to a zero-card total. This incentive will be automatically applied a maximum of three times throughout the course of the MLS Regular Season.

JULY 3, 2019

NEW YORK CITY FC 3-0 SEATTLE SOUNDERS FC

The Club extended its unbeaten streak to 14 matches across all competitions with a commanding 3-0 victory over Seattle Sounders FC on Staten Island Night at Yankee Stadium. The breakthrough came in the 57th minute, when the team's most in-form player delivered once again. Maxi Moralez initiated the attack, playing the ball into the box for second-half substitute Jesús Medina. The two combined brilliantly, with Moralez finishing the move after his shot deflected past Stefan Frei to open the scoring. It marked his sixth goal of the season and his ninth goal involvement in the last three matches. In the 76th minute, the Argentine playmaker was at the heart of it again, sending a precise cross to Valentín Castellanos, who drove the ball across goal for Medina to tap home at the back post. The finish doubled the lead and gave Medina his first league goal of the season and second across all competitions. The night was capped off in spectacular fashion when Ebenezer Ofori unleashed a stunning strike from 35 yards, sealing another emphatic win. The 3-0 result held to the final whistle, marking a fifth straight victory and pushing the team within three points of the top of the Eastern Conference, still with games in hand.

JULY 29, 2018

SEATTLE SOUNDERS FC 3-1 NEW YORK CITY FC

The Seattle Sounders earned a 3-1 victory over the visitors on Sunday at CenturyLink Field, powered by a first-half strike from Cristian Roldan and a spectacular long-range effort from Gustav Svensson early in the second half. The result extended Seattle's winning streak to three matches and stretched their overall unbeaten run to six. In the 36th minute, Roldan sparked the scoring after a clever give-and-go sequence. The midfielder played a pass from the left side of the box, drifted into open space on the right, and was perfectly positioned to receive the return ball before turning and firing home to give the hosts the lead. Just after the break, Harry Shipp picked out Svensson with a sharp centering pass. From nearly 30 yards out, Svensson unleashed a thunderous strike that took a slight deflection off Sean Johnson on its way into the net. Shipp then added a third in the 86th minute, cutting inside and driving a shot high into the goal to seal the result. The visitors' best early chance came when Maxi Moralez rattled the crossbar from a free kick, but the breakthrough didn't arrive until Jesús Medina converted on a counterattack just past the hour mark. Despite the defeat, the team remained second in the Eastern Conference after a demanding cross-country road swing that began midweek in Orlando.

MATCH RECAP

New York City FC were on the road Saturday night as they took on the Philadelphia Union.

The visitors had already secured a spot in the playoffs, while the hosts knew that victory would seal the Supporters' Shield.

Head Coach Pascal Jansen made one change from the team that won the Hudson River Derby last time out, with Alonso Martínez returning to the XI in place of Agustín Ojeda.

New York City almost had a dream start when Martínez got in behind and rounded Andre Blake from a narrow angle. Unfortunately, he was unable to convert his eventual shot.

The hosts responded with several looks at goal over the next ten minutes, but important blocks from Hannes Wolf and Thiago Martins removed the danger.

In the 17th minute, Matt Freese was called into action to deny Bruno Damiani. The Brazilian forced the former Union goalkeeper into a smart save down low to his right.

In response, Wolf produced a dipping volley from the edge of the box that required an important intervention from Blake.

The Austrian was then handed a great chance to break the deadlock in the 32nd minute after a flowing move culminated with a loose ball bouncing into his path. Unfortunately, Wolf slashed at the ball and saw the effort go over.

The deadlock was broken in the 41st minute through Mikael Uhre. His strike from the right side of the area took a wicked deflection off Raul Gustavo and wrong-footed Freese in the process.

The second half saw New York City make one change, with Kevin O'Toole replaced by Aiden O'Neill. The frantic pace that defined the first half continued after the break as Milan Iloski fired wide.

Indiana Vassilev then tested Freese with an effort from just outside the box, before Jansen made two changes in the 59th minute — Mitja Ilenič and Ojeda replacing Martínez and Tayvon Gray.

Ojeda registered a shot on target for New York City ten minutes later, but a deflection took much of the power off the effort, allowing Blake to collect comfortably.

In the 78th minute, a fourth change for New York City saw Wolf replaced by Julián Fernández. The winger created a great chance for the visitors after skipping past two Union defenders and clipping the ball onto the head of Nicolás Fernández. Unfortunately, his header deflected behind for a corner.

New York City's final change came in the 87th minute as Máximo Carrizo replaced Maxi Moralez. The teenager thought he had equalized after latching onto a pass from Nicolás Fernández and poking it past Blake, only for the offside flag to deny him a first MLS goal.

Unfortunately, that would prove to be New York City's last chance of note, forcing them to accept a narrow defeat on the night.

POST-MATCH QUOTES - HEAD COACH PASCAL JANSEN

Thoughts on tonight's match against Philadelphia Union...

"For us, the main thing is that we didn't get the three points today. We had the moments in the first half to get ourselves ahead of Philadelphia [Union], but we missed them. In other games against top-seeded teams, like Columbus [Crew], we got the goals or came back into the game and did the job. Today, Philadelphia [Union] held the 1-0 and we couldn't get back. Unfortunately. For us now, the focus is getting the three points against Seattle [Sounders FC], finishing on 59 points, and then focusing on the playoffs. Whatever position we finish in, the goal is to perform again and get on top."

POST-MATCH QUOTES - MIDFIELDER JUSTIN HAAK

On the tough opponent and difficulty to create chances in the second half...

"We had two good [chances]. We had a good look with [Forward] Alonso [Martínez] early, maybe [in the] first minute or two of the game. [Forward] Hannes [Wolf] had a good look, but we weren't able to create too many chances. It was just about finishing it off when we did have those moments. They're [Philadelphia Union] such a good team in transition, that's why they are where they are in the league. We did a decent job limiting them, but they got one moment off [of] a turnover and that's where they found their goal."

A LOOK BACK AT 2025

FEBRUARY: 0W-0L-1D

- INTER MIAMI CF 2-2 NEW YORK CITY FC

 - ALL-TIME LEADER IN SAVES: Goalkeeper Matt Freese became the all-time series leader in saves against Minnesota with seven saves tonight. Additionally, Freese is now the holder of the all-time series game high record in saves against the 'Loons' (7). Freese's seven saves mark his highest total of the 2025 regular season and his most in a single match since July 17, 2024, when he faced Atlanta United.
 - PARKS' FIRST GOAL OF 2025: Keaton Parks scored his first goal of the season and his 15th for the Club in the MLS Regular Season. Parks now tallies 30 total goal contributions (15G and 15A) in MLS play.
- NEW YORK CITY FC 1-0 PHILADELPHIA UNION
 - ALONSO'S FIFTH GOAL OF 2025: Forward Alonso Martínez scored his fifth goal of the season, scoring the lone goal this evening to give New York City their third win of the 2025 MLS Regular Season. With tonight's goal, Martínez becomes the fourth player in Club history to score five goals in the first seven matches of the season joining the likes of Valentín 'Taty' Castellanos (2022), Jesus Medina (2021) and David Villa (2017). In his last five matches, Martínez has scored four goals (dating back from March 8, 2025, against the Orlando City SC). Martínez has now matched former Midfielder Santiago Rodríguez's record for the most goals scored at Citi Field in New York City FC history, with five.
 - MITJA'S FIRST ASSIST OF 2025: Defender Mitja Ilenič recorded his first assist of the season, setting up Martínez early in the second half.
 - FIRST CLEAN SHEET AT HOME: This is the first clean sheet at home of the season for New York City.

 - CARRIZO'S SECOND APPEARANCE: Midfielder Máximo Carrizo substituted into today's match in the 65th minute, marking his second career MLS appearance.
 - MARTINS' TOP SPEED: Defender Thiago Martins recorded a top speed of 22.22 miles per hour this season, ranking sixth among all MLS players this season.
- NEW YORK CITY FC 2-0 NEW YORK RED BULLS
 - MORALES'S FIRST GOAL OF 2025: Midfielder Maxi Moralez scored his first goal of the 2025 MLS Regular Season, scoring in the 50th minute to double New York City's advantage. Moralez becomes the oldest player to have scored in Major League Soccer this season, at 38 years and 79 days. Moralez is the second New York City FC player to score a goal at age 38 or older, joining former New York Midfielder Frank Lampard.

MAY - CONTINUED

- MARTINEZ'S SEVENTH GOAL OF 2025: Forward Alonso Martínez scored his seventh goal and his first assist of the 2025 MLS Regular Season. Martínez has scored three goals while playing against the Red Bulls. Martínez also provided his first assist of the season as he set up Morales's 50th minute goal.
- HAAK'S FIRST ASSIST: Midfielder Justin Haak recorded his first assist with New York City FC and first against the Red Bulls, setting up Alonso Martínez to open the scoring for the 'Boys in Blue'.
- FREESE'S SIXTH CLEAN SHEET: Goalkeeper Matt Freese maintained his sixth clean sheet of the season, which ties his career high of six that was set last season. During one of his clean sheets (v. Columbus Crew in August) Freese was substituted off in the match and the Club eventually conceded a goal afterwards, contributing to his six clean sheets and the team's total of five on the season.
- NEW YORK CITY FC 3-0 CHICAGO FIRE FC
 - BAKRAR'S FIRST GOAL OF 2025: Mounsef Bakrar notched his first goal of the season, equalizing the score in the 58th minute of play. Through 52 games played, this is Bakrar's eighth goal with the Club. Additionally, Bakrar's goal marks the first time this season that a substitute has come off the bench to score for New York City FC.
 - WOLF'S FOURTH GOAL AND SECOND ASSIST OF 2025: Midfielder Hannes Wolf scored the winning goal for New York City in the 70th minute, in addition to an assist on City's opener in the 58th minute. It marked the first time the Austrian midfielder had multiple goal contributions in a single match since March 29, when Wolf scored a brace against Atlanta United.
 - HAAK'S SECOND ASSIST OF 2025: Midfielder Justin Haak assisted New York City FC's first goal, giving him two assists in his last two matches. Prior to these two matches, Haak's last goal contribution came on July 8, 2023, when he scored against the Columbus Crew. That goal was also the first goal by a Homegrown.
 - JULIÁN'S SECOND ASSIST OF 2025: Julián Fernández provided an assist on Wolf's goal, recording his second assist of the season.
 - MAXI'S SECOND ASSIST OF 2025: Midfielder Maxi Morales was credited with a second assist for Wolf's goal, which marks his second goal contribution in the last two matches.
 - MARTINEZ'S 24TH GOAL: With his 24 goals scored during his time at the Club, Martínez is tied for the fifth most goals scored in Club history for the MLS Regular Season. He is now two off fourth (26 goals, set by former Midfielder Ismael Tajouri-Shradi). Martínez now has eight goals in 2025, tied for fourth most leaguewide in goals scored this season.

- COMEBACK VICTORY: New York City FC came from behind to win for the second time this season, with the previous instance occurring on March 15 in a comeback victory over the New England Revolution.
- FERNÁNDEZ AND WOLF COMBO: Over the last 13 matchdays, Julián Fernández and Hannes Wolf have formed a prolific partnership, combining for four goals during that span. Wolf has scored in three different matches—against Orlando City SC, Atlanta United and Chicago Fire FC—with Fernández assisting each of those goals. Fernández also found the back of the net against the New England Revolution, with Wolf providing the assist. In two of those matches—Matchday 3 against Orlando and Matchday 4 against New England—the goal contributions were consecutive.
- NEW YORK CITY FC 0-3 HOUSTON DYNAMO FC
 - 16 STARTS: Midfielders Maxi Morales and Justin Haak, along with goalkeeper Matt Freese, extended their streak of starting every match for New York City FC this season in MLS play.
 - APPEARANCES IN ALL COMPETITIONS: Midfielders Hannes Wolf and Justin Haak, along with forwards Agustín Ojeda and Julián Fernández, have appeared in every match across all competitions for New York City FC this season.
- NASHVILLE SC 2-2 NEW YORK CITY FC
 - WOLF'S BRACE: On Matchday 17, Hannes Wolf, who plays with the number 17 for the Club, scored a brace to help put the team back into the match. This is Wolf's fourth goal contribution in the last three matches (2G v. Nashville today and 1G and 1A v. Chicago). This is Wolf's second brace of the season, with the first coming against Atlanta United and now the second against Nashville. Wolf now has six goals scored this season, with eight total goal contributions (6G, 2A). Wolf has surpassed his goalscoring tally of last season (5G in 34 games played).
 - PARKS ASSISTS WOLF'S BRACE: Keaton Parks recorded his first assists of the season today, providing two to Wolf. He now has six assists in MLS Regular Season play in his New York City FC career.
 - MORALEZ'S THIRD ASSIST OF 2025: Maxi Morales was credited with a second assist, after contributing to Wolf's first goal. This is Morales's third goal contribution in the last four matches (1A v. Nashville, 1A v. Chicago Fire, 1G v. the New York Red Bulls)
 - FREESE TIES FOR LONGEST STARTING STREAK AND GAMES PLAYED STREAK: Freese has started 59 matches (08/30/2023 - 05/31/2025). With today's start, Freese is now tied for the longest start streak in franchise history. Goalkeeper Josh Saunders (05/03/2015 - 10/16/2016) and Defender Alexander Callens (03/05/2017 - 08/18/2018) are the players he is tied with, for a streak of 59 consecutive games played.

JUNE (1W-1L-0D)

• NEW YORK CITY FC 4-0 ATLANTA UNITED FC

- LARGEST WINNING MARGIN OF 2025: Today's 4-0 victory over Atlanta United marks the largest margin of victory for New York City this season. It is also the team's largest win margin over Atlanta in series history. The team has only scored four against Atlanta once prior to this match, which occurred in September 25, 2019 when the Club won 4-1.
- THREE GOALS IN FOUR MINUTES: New York City FC scored three goals in a span of four minutes tonight. Three goals in the span of four minutes is the fastest in Club history. The two-minute span between goals is tied for the second-fastest in MLS history, matching the mark set by the MetroStars, Houston Dynamo FC and FC Dallas. D.C. United holds the record, having scored three goals in three minutes on July 27, 2003.
- MAXI'S SECOND GOAL OF 2025: Midfielder Maxi Moralez scored his second goal of the season and second all-time against Atlanta United, becoming the oldest player all-time to score for New York City FC in an MLS Regular Season match at 38 years, 3 months and 16 days.
- MAXI'S 180TH START: Moralez also made his 180th start for the Club in MLS Regular Season play, surpassing Goalkeeper Sean Johnson for the most regular season starts (179) in New York City FC history.
- WOLF'S THIRD BRACE: Midfielder Hannes Wolf recorded his third brace of the season and second against Atlanta United, scoring both goals two minutes apart. He becomes only the fourth player in Club history to record braces in back-to-back games, alongside Forward David Villa (who did this in two instances), Midfielder Alexandru Mitrită, and Forward Valentin Castellanos. Wolf is now tied alongside former Midfielder Gabriel Pereira for most goals scored for New York City FC in the series against Atlanta with four total. Hannes Wolf became the first New York City FC player to score two or more goals in a three-minute span within the same half. Previously, three New York City players scored twice within a four-minute span—based on the minute of each goal rather than exact time elapsed: Frank Lampard on July 30, 2016; David Villa on Aug. 6, 2017; and Alonso Martínez on May 31, 2024. David Villa recorded three braces through New York City FC's first 18 matches in both 2016 and 2017, while Valentin Castellanos matched the feat in 2022. They are the only players in Club history to do so.
- ROMERO'S DEBUT AND CLEAN SHEET: In his MLS debut for New York City FC, Goalkeeper Tomás Romero recorded his first clean sheet of the season, and his first in league play since Sept. 3, 2021, when he posted a shutout for LAFC against Sporting Kansas City. He is the first goalkeeper in Club history to record a clean sheet while making his first start with New York City in league play.

JUNE - CONTINUED

- Additionally, Romero is now the youngest goalkeeper in Club history to record a clean sheet in the regular season. He did so at 24 years, 5 months and 24 days. He surpasses Goalkeeper Luis Barraza, who accomplished it at 24 years, 8 months and 13 days.
- SEVEN CLEAN SHEETS: This is the seventh clean sheet recorded in the 2025 MLS Regular Season for New York City. The Club is tied for second league wide for most clean sheets this season and are only one off the lead of eight (set by Minnesota United FC and Vancouver Whitecaps FC).
- UNDEFEATED AGAINST ATLANTA: New York City has never dropped points at home against Atlanta, with a 4-0-4 record over eight matches hosted by the Club, scoring 17 and conceding seven.
- MOUNSEF'S SECOND GOAL: Bakrar added to the Club's advantage in the 55th minute. This is Bakrar's second goal in the last four matches he's played.
- HAAK'S THIRD ASSIST OF 2025: Midfielder Justin Haak recorded his third assist of the season.
- PEREA'S FIRST ASSIST OF 2025: Midfielder Andrés Perea recorded his first assist of the season, and the third of his MLS career. All three were recorded with New York City. One this season, and two more during the 2024 Regular Season.
- REID'S HOME DEBUT: Forward Seymour Reid made his home debut for New York City FC. This is Reid's second appearance for the club; his first appearance was against Columbus Crew on March 22, 2025.
- CF MONTRÉAL 1-0 NEW YORK CITY FC
 - BALLOUCHY SUBS IN AS HEAD COACH: Assistant Coach Mehdi Ballouchy led the team as acting Head Coach for the first time in his career, filling in for Head Coach Pascal Jansen who was absent due to a personal matter. Ballouchy joined New York City's coaching staff ahead of the 2020 season as an Assistant Coach under Head Coach Ronny Deila, and was part of the coaching staff that led New York City FC to its first MLS Cup in 2021. The former New York City FC midfielder joined the Academy staff in 2017 and was most recently the Head Coach of the U-15s. During his time at New York City FC, he's also coached the U-14s and his teams have competed against top teams both domestically and abroad. Ballouchy was also invited to coach within the U.S. Youth National Team setup.
 - ROMERO'S SECOND CONSECUTIVE START: Goalkeeper Tomás Romero made his second consecutive start for New York City FC in league play. Romero recorded five saves in tonight's match against CF Montréal, marking his highest single-game total while playing with New York City FC. During his MLS career, Tomás Romero recorded five or more saves in a regular season match on four occasions—twice with Toronto FC, making six saves in each game, and twice with LAFC, registering five saves each time. Romero has played one game against

- 16 WINS: With this win against Charlotte FC, New York City matched their second highest win total all time in regular season play with 16. This was also achieved during the 2017, 2018 and 2022 seasons. Their highest win total was 18 in the 2019 season.
- WHEN SCORING TWO OR MORE AT HOME: New York City is now 9-0-0 at home when scoring at least two goals.
- CLEAN SHEETS VS. TEAMS IN A HIGHER SEED: With today's 2-0 clean sheet win, New York City has ended Charlotte FC's nine-game win streak that began when Charlotte FC defeated the Club 2-0 at Bank of America Stadium on July 12, 2025. Based on the current standings, today's clean sheet will be New York City's fourth shutout in five matches this season against the top three teams in the Eastern Conference (Philadelphia Union, FC Cincinnati, Charlotte FC). In addition to today's 2-0 clean sheet, this season New York City defeated FC Cincinnati 1-0 both home and away. They also defeated the Philadelphia Union at home 1-0.
- ONE LOSS IN LAST NINE: New York City has been on a good run of form since their defeat to Charlotte at Bank of America Stadium on July 12, 2025, losing only one match since. They have posted a record of 7-1-1 (W-L-D).
- TWO PENALTY GOALS: The last time New York City scored two penalties in a match was against the New England Revolution at Yankee Stadium on July 9, 2022. The Club defeated the Revolution 4-2.
- RAUL GUSTAVO'S HOME DEBUT: Defender Raul Gustavo made his home debut for the 'Boys in Blue.' Gustavo started during the away match against Chicago Fire FC on Matchday 33, but today's start is his first in the Bronx.
- MARTÍNEZ'S BRACE: Forward Alonso Martínez scored his 16th and 17th goals of the season. Martínez is now tied for third most goals with Midfielder Maxi Moralez in Club History recorded in MLS play including post-season with 34. Ahead are Forwards Valentín Castellanos (53G) and David Villa (80G). With his 17th goal, Martínez has now surpassed his previous season-high of 16 goals scored in a single season (during the 2024 MLS Regular Season). Martínez is now ranked second in multi-goal games (two goals) in a single season with five for the Club. Martínez now ranks third on the Club's all-time list for MLS Regular Season braces, recording six in total. Martínez's goals today were his fourth and fifth penalty kick goals (PKG) converted this season, which ties him for the second most in the league in PKG scored. The last time Martínez scored a penalty kick goal was on May 25, 2025, against Chicago Fire FC at Yankee Stadium. Since July 25, Martínez has registered 12 goal contributions in his last ten matches including Leagues Cup (10 goals, 2 assists).

- MARTÍNEZ SCORES GAME-WINNER: Martínez has scored his tenth game-winning goal of the season. He is the first ever player to score 10 game-winning goals for the Club in a single season. He ranks second in MLS history in game-winning goals scored in a single season with 10. He is tied with former Atlanta United FC Forward Josef Martínez. He is one goal away from tying San Jose Earthquakes Forward Chris Wondolowski (11) in all-time MLS game-winning goals. All-time during the MLS Regular Season, he now has the second most game-winning goals for the Club with 13.
- FREESE'S EIGHTH CLEAN SHEET: Goalkeeper Matt Freese earned his eighth clean sheet of the season, tying Josh Saunders for the fourth-most shutouts in Club history during an MLS Regular Season.
- NEW YORK CITY FC 0-4 INTER MIAMI CF
 - 31 MATCHES PLAYED: With 31 matches played, Midfielder Maxi Moralez, Midfielder Justin Haak, and Forward Agustín Ojeda have appeared in every MLS Regular Season game. Both Moralez and Haak have started all 31 matches.
- NEW YORK RED BULLS 2-3 NEW YORK CITY FC
 - SERIES SWEEP AGAINST THE RED BULLS: New York City won the season series against the New York Red Bulls. With the season sweep against the Red Bulls, this marks two consecutive seasons in which they have achieved this feat (2024 and 2025). In the 2024 MLS Regular Season, New York City swept the Red Bulls, winning 2-1 at Citi Field on May 18, 2024, and 5-1 at Sports Illustrated Stadium September 28, 2024. This marks the third time in four MLS Regular Seasons New York City swept the Red Bulls (2022, 2024, 2025). In addition to 2024, New York City also swept the Red Bulls in 2022, winning 1-0 at Sports Illustrated Stadium on July 17, 2022, and 2-0 at Yankee Stadium on September 17, 2022. New York City FC has now completed their fifth sweep (two victories) of a Major League Soccer in the 2025 MLS Regular Season. This is a new Club record for the most sweeps in a single MLS Regular season. Their other win against the Red Bulls was a 2-0 scoreline at Citi Field on May 17, 2025. New York City has also swept Toronto FC, Orlando City SC, FC Cincinnati, and Chicago Fire FC this season. Head Coach Pascal Jansen becomes the second Head Coach in Club history to sweep the New York Red Bulls in the regular season. Former Head Coach Nick Cushing did it twice for New York City (2022, 2024).
 - SIX-MATCH UNBEATEN RUN AND FOUR-MATCH WINNING STREAK ON THE ROAD: Out of their 16 away matches played, the Club is currently on a six-game unbeaten run, having posted a 5-0-1 record in their last six. The four most recent matches of this current streak were victories. The Club defeated FC Dallas 4-3 at Toyota Stadium on July 25, 2025, shut out Cincinnati 1-0 at TQL Stadium on August 23,

- SIX WINS ON THE ROAD: New York City FC equaled their second highest win total on the road in Club history with six wins. The Club also attained six road victories in the 2017 and 2022 MLS Regular Seasons. The most road victories recorded in a single season in Club history is seven. The last time the Club recorded seven road victories was in the 2019 MLS Regular Season. The Club also accomplished this feat in the 2016 MLS Regular Season.
- FIVE ROAD LOSSES: In the 2025 MLS Regular Season thus far, New York City is tied for their record for the fewest number of road losses in Club history in a full, 17 away-game, MLS Regular Season with five. The team had five away losses in the 2019 MLS Regular Season as well. The Club officially had the fewest away losses in the shortened 2020 MLS Regular Season with four in 11 matches played.
- FERNÁNDEZ MERCAU'S SECOND GOAL OF 2025: Midfielder Nicolás Fernández Mercáu scored his second goal of the season and his first in the Hudson River Derby. Fernández Mercáu's second-minute goal marks the fastest goal of the season and the first goal scored within the first five minutes of a match. The second-fastest goal of the season was scored by Julián Fernández on Matchday 11 against FC Cincinnati, which was scored in the ninth minute. Mercáu's goal marks the second fastest goal scored in Club history against the New York Red Bulls. Former Defender Alexander Callens holds the record of the fastest goal scored by a New York City FC player in the Hudson River Derby.
- HAAK'S FOURTH ASSIST: Midfielder Justin Haak provided his fourth assist of the season and his second assist in Hudson River Derby history. Haak has tallied six goal contributions in MLS Regular Season. He has a total of two goals and four assists. He is tied with Former Forward Andres Jasson and Midfielder James Sands for the second most goal contributions by a Homegrown player. Defender Tayvon Gray leads this stat with 12 goal contributions.
- PEREA'S THIRD GOAL: Midfielder Andrés Perea scored his third goal of the season and his second goal in Hudson River Derby history. Perea's first goal in the Hudson River Derby was scored in the 5-1 victory at Sports Illustrated Stadium on September 28, 2024. With the 5-1 victory being the most recent away match against the New York Red Bulls, Perea's goal marked his second consecutive strike in away games against them. This was also the second time Perea has scored with a header in the first half against the Red Bulls. Perea's goal in the 5-1 rout was scored in the 30th minute with header from the centre of the box with an xG of 52% to the upper left central zone.

COACHING STAFF

HEAD COACH

PASCAL JANSEN

Birthplace: London, England

Previous Clubs Coached: Ferencvárosi TC (Head Coach), AZ Alkmaar (Head Coach), Jong PSV (Head Coach)

Pascal Jansen was named Head Coach of New York City FC in February 2025. The London-born coach brings extensive European experience, having managed 192 matches across Hungary and the Netherlands, including UEFA Champions League qualifiers, UEFA Europa League, and UEFA Conference League. Jansen most recently joined New York City FC from Ferencvárosi TC of Hungary's top flight, where he led the side to second place in the league and featured in the UEFA Europa League during the 2024-25 season. Prior to his time in Hungary, Jansen spent four seasons at AZ Alkmaar, accumulating a 58% win percentage with 94 victories and reaching the semifinals of the UEFA Conference League in 2023. He also managed Jong PSV in the Dutch second division from 2015-2017, finishing fourth in his second season. Known for his aggressive, attacking style of play and commitment to developing young players, Jansen is dedicated to competing for trophies while entertaining fans. His holistic coaching approach, focused on maximizing player potential both on-and-off the field, aligns with New York City FC's philosophy and long-term vision for success.

ASSISTANT COACH

MEHDI BALLOUCHY

Birthplace: Casablanca, Morocco

Experience: New York City FC Player & U-14 and U-15 Head Coach

Ballouchy joined New York City's coaching staff ahead of the 2020 season as an Assistant Coach under Head Coach Ronny Deila, and was part of the coaching staff that led New York City FC to its first MLS Cup in 2021.

The former New York City FC midfielder joined the Academy staff in 2017 and was most recently the Head Coach of the U-15s. During his time at New York City FC, he's also coached the U-14s and his teams have competed against top teams both domestically and abroad. Ballouchy was also invited to coach within the U.S. Youth National Team setup.

Ballouchy played in college for Creighton University and Santa Clara University before being drafted second overall by Real Salt Lake in the 2006 MLS SuperDraft. A 10-year veteran, Ballouchy made 217 career MLS appearances, including 23 with New York City, where three of his 16 career goals came from.

ASSISTANT COACH

ROB VARTUGHIAN

Birthplace: New York, NY

Experience: Philadelphia Union, Assistant Coach Rob Vartughian was named assistant coach for New York City FC on December 22, 2014. Vartughian has been an important asset since the Club's debut in 2015.

Prior to joining New York City FC, Vartughian spent five years with the Philadelphia Union where he was first assistant coach before becoming technical director alongside his coaching responsibilities. He has also worked as a goalkeeping coach and scout for the US Men's National Under-15 to Under-23 teams.

Before joining the Union, Vartughian was an assistant coach with the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Maryland.

Vartughian was part of the coaching staff that led New York City FC to winning its first major trophy, that being the 2021 MLS Cup.

ASSISTANT COACH

LEON HAPGOOD

Birthplace: Torquay, UK

Experience: Cavalry FC, Technical Director Leon Hapgood was named assistant coach for New York City FC on February 1, 2024.

Hapgood has spent the last two seasons as the Technical Director of Canadian Premier League team Cavalry FC. The English native helped guide the team to its second Canadian Premier League Shield in 2023. Hapgood previously served as the Assistant Coach of Cavalry FC from 2019 through 2021.

Before joining Cavalry FC, Hapgood started his coaching career at Calgary Foothills in 2008. He served as the club's Assistant Coach for 10 years before being promoted to Technical Director.

While at Calgary Foothills, Hapgood oversaw the development of hundreds of players and coaches. Prior to his coaching career, Hapgood was a former professional player for English team Torquay United. As a player, he was renowned for his footballing intelligence and his attack-minded approach to the game.

Transaction: New York City Football Club signs 2025 MLS SuperDraft pick Defender Nico Cavallo with the 88th overall pick.

About: Nico Cavallo signed his first professional contract with New York City FC in February 2025, committing to the club through 2025 with options through 2028. Selected as the No. 88 overall pick in the third round of the 2025 MLS SuperDraft, Cavallo became the first UCLA player drafted by the club. During his lone season at UCLA, the Richmond, Virginia native started all 19 matches, leading the team with 1,640 minutes played. Primarily featuring at left back, he recorded one goal and two assists while earning All-Big Ten Second Team honors. Cavallo joined the 'Boys in Blue' for preseason in Santa Barbara and the 2025 Coachella Valley Invitational, making six appearances and impressing with his versatility, strong offensive play, and defensive reliability. On February 22, 2025, Nico Cavallo made his MLS debut with New York City FC as he came on as a substitute in the 69th minute. Cavallo became the third player from the MLS SuperDraft to debut in a season opener for New York City FC, following Khiry Shelton and Jack Harrison

Transaction: Acquired from the Philadelphia Union via trade in exchange for $650,000 in General Allocation Money (GAM). The Union will receive $350,000 in GAM in 2024 and $300,000 GAM in 2025, plus an additional $150,000 GAM in performance-based incentives.

About: In 2023, Tampa, Florida native Andrés Perea joined New York City FC on loan from Philadelphia Union for the remainder of the season. Before his move, he played 146 minutes for the Union, scoring one goal and starting in one match. That goal came against his former club, Orlando City SC, where he had previously made his MLS debut. During his time with Orlando, Perea played 74 matches, starting 34, while recording three goals and three assists. He also earned one cap with the U.S. Men's National Team. His career began in Atlético Nacional's youth system from 2006 to 2017, and he made his professional debut with the Colombian club in 2017, scoring one goal in 14 appearances. In the 2023 season, Perea scored his first goal for New York City FC in a 3-0 victory over Toronto FC, finding the net in the second minute with a header from the center of the box into the bottom right corner. His physical presence and strength bolstered New York City FC's midfield, leading to his permanent acquisition from Philadelphia Union via trade on January 15, 2024. Perea wrapped up the 2024 season with 28 appearances, contributing three goals and two assists.

About: In 2023, New York City FC legend Maxi Moralez made his return to the 'Boys in Blue' after spending eight months playing in his native Argentina. He had rejoined his boyhood club, Racing Club, following six successful seasons with New York City FC. Moralez returned as the most experienced player on the squad, having competed in various leagues since his professional debut in 2005. His career highlights include a standout stint with Atalanta in Serie A, where he played 148 matches, scoring 20 goals and providing 26 assists. With Argentine side Vélez Sársfield, he made 98 appearances, tallying 25 goals and 22 assists. Additionally, he earned one cap for the Argentina National Team. Back at New York City FC, Moralez aimed to use his leadership and experience to guide the second-youngest team in MLS. The 'Little Genius' boasts an impressive resume, featuring an MLS Cup, Campeones Cup, MLS All-Star selection, MLS Best XI honors, and a New York City FC Team MVP award. In 2023, he played four matches (all starts), bringing the creative spark New York City FC had come to rely on from his previous stint with the club (2017-2022), during which he recorded 26 goals and 69 assists in 162 regular-season games. However, his season was interrupted by an unfortunate ACL injury that required surgery. After months of recovery, Moralez made his long-awaited return on May 31, 2024, in a 5-1 victory over the San Jose Earthquakes. Entering as a substitute in the 74th minute with the match tied 1-1, he made an immediate impact by assisting Alonso Martínez's goal in the 85th minute. Moralez finished the season with 26 appearances across all competitions, registering two goals and seven assists while reaching the milestone of 100 career goal contributions. In doing so, he joined David Villa (103) as one of only two players in club history to achieve this feat. Additionally, he became the first player in franchise history to surpass 200 MLS appearances.

Fun Fact: 27 is the number Moralez wore in his debut with Racing.

Transaction: Drafted in the first round (34th overall) pick of the 2022 MLS SuperDraft.

About: The former two-time Ivy League Offensive Player of the Year (2018 & 2021) burst on to the scene in his debut season with the senior team. The forward put in a number of quality shifts at full-back for the 'Boys in Blue' and his contributions were clearly recognized by Head Coach Nick Cushing. His versatility and attacking contributions ensured that he featured in and completed every minute of the team's last seven games of the 2022 season, including New York City FC's playoff run. His 2023 season features 21 appearances, tallying 1190 minutes. Last season, O'Toole recorded his first career goal and assist. He netted the game-winning goal in the 64th minute against Toronto FC on March 16, securing the team's first victory of the 2024 season. Overall, he logged 2,391 minutes, finishing the season with one goal and two assists.

About: Agustín Ojeda joined the Club on February 2, 2024 as Major League Soccer's U22 initiative and will join the team pending his ITC and P-1 Visa. The Argentine arrived in New York from Racing Club, where he made 24 appearances. During his time with Racing, Ojeda scored three goals and provided two assists, including five appearances and one goal in the Copa Libertadores. The Rosario native joined Racing's academy and progressed to the First Team, making his debut in 2022. Ojeda's first professional goal came the following season in a 3-1 victory against Central Córdoba. Meanwhile, in South America's prestigious club competition, Copa Libertadores, the right-footed winger scored in the Round of 16 against Atletico Nacional, helping Racing advance to the Quarterfinal of the competition. Ojeda is a former teammate of New York City FC Midfielder Maxi Moralez, with the two having shared the field on two occasions for Racing in the Copa Argentina and the Liga Profesional in 2023. Known as 'El Trapito,' Ojeda has represented Argentina at U-15, U-17 and U-20 level. Ojeda wrapped up his debut season with New York City FC, playing 921 minutes and recording three goals and two assists. He scored his first goal for the Club on April 13, 2024, in a 2-0 victory over the New England Revolution, opening the scoring sheet in the 57th minute during his first-ever league start.

About: In 2023, the 16-year-old, born and raised in New York City, signed a Homegrown contract, making him the 11th homegrown player in the Club's history. Shore has been playing soccer from a very young age and he joined the Club's Academy at just 10-years-old back in 2017. He continued to progress through the Club's ranks, becoming a regular player for the U17 Academy team. The young midfielder made his MLS NEXT Pro debut in the 2022 season playing twice for New York City FC II. Shore has been invited to the last two First Team preseason camps and was also named to the 2023 MLS NEXT All-Star roster after a string of impressive performances with the Club. Shore has also played with the U.S. National Youth teams, taking part with the U15 and U16 teams. His 2023 season concluded with 15 appearances, five starts, totaling 622 minutes, and two goals scored. He scored his first goal with New York City FC II against Inter Miami II, which resulted in a 5-0 win. In the 2024 season, Shore played 1,408 minutes for New York City FC II, scoring eight goals—the second-most on the team. Shore made his first team debut on February 22, 2024 against Inter Miami CF as he entered the match as a substitute in the 46th minute. Jonny became the ninth Homegrown player to feature for New York City FC. Midfielder Jonathan Shore earned his first-ever MLS Regular Season start on March 8, 2025, while also marking his home debut for New York City FC.

About: The 26-year-old Texas native has become an integral part of the New York City FC since joining from Benfica in 2019. A consistent name in the starting XI for the 2021 season, Parks had to sit out of the MLS Cup Playoffs due to a blood clot diagnosis. After making a welcome return to action in 2022, clinching the Etihad Player of the Month nomination for May after scoring in successive games against Toronto FC and San Jose Earthquakes, Parks' season was once again sadly hampered through injury. In June, it was announced the midfielder would once again undergo surgery to remove a blood clot in his leg, ruling him out until September. His comeback sparked an upturn in fortunes for New York City FC, as he returned for the Campeones Cup victory and aided the playoff push. In 2023, Parks played the most matches with the Club totaling in 32 games played, 30 starts and 2515 minutes. The midfielder scored two goals and provided three assists within the 2023 season. Ahead of the 2024 season, New York City FC signed Keaton Parks to a contract extension through the 2026 MLS season with options for 2027-28. In the 2024 season, Parks played 2,515 minutes, scoring two goals and setting a career-high with four assists in a single season.

About: The Brooklyn native signed as the Club's third Homegrown ahead of the 2019 season. The young midfielder impressed during the 2018 preseason in friendlies against LA Galaxy and Atlético San Luis and helped the U-19s win the 2018 USSDA National Championship. Haak made his professional debut on June 6, 2019, against FC Cincinnati becoming the first New York City FC player from one of the five boroughs to appear for the Club. In 2020, the midfielder joined Hartford Athletic (USL Championship) on loan for the remainder of the 2020 season. Once again in 2021, the youngster was loaned to Hartford Athletic (USL Championship) where he made 16 appearances for Hartford. In 2022, After featuring in the US Open Cup, Haak enjoyed more senior gametime under the stewardship of Nick Cushing, featuring in 15 MLS regular season fixtures to gain more First Team experience. He featured in the Campeones Cup triumph over Atlas F.C. and also earned minutes in the MLS playoffs. In addition, he also suited up for New York City FC II, playing in six matches and scoring a goal. On January 11, 2023, the midfielder penned a new deal at the start of the year, extending his contract through 2025 with an option for 2026. He concluded last season with the most minutes played with New York City FC, totaling 909 minutes. Additionally, he scored his first goal, which occurred against Columbus Crew in the 75th minute. Last season, Haak played 776 minutes, recording eight shots, three of which were on target.

Transaction: Selected from the 2024 MLS SuperDraft (First Round - 8th Overall)

About: On January 22, 2024, 20-year-old Malachi Jones was selected as the eighth overall pick in the 2024 MLS SuperDraft from Lipscomb University. Malachi made 35 appearances, scoring 12 goals and providing 15 assists over two seasons for the Bisons. Jones led the NCAA ASUN Conference in total assists and assists per game, and ranked third overall in those categories nationally. He earned United Soccer Coaches All-Region First Team honors, as well as being named first team all-ASUN for the second consecutive season. A four-time first-team all-state selection, Jones finished his high school career with 119 goals and 43 assists. Ahead of his freshman year at Lipscomb, the 5-foot-10 forward was named the 2022 Gatorade Tennessee Boys Soccer Player of the Year, which is awarded to the best high school boys soccer player for excellence. Last season, Malachi played 483 minutes, scoring his first goal with the club and providing three assists. His first goal came on May 11, 2024, in a 3-2 victory over Toronto FC, scoring in the 44th minute. Unfortunately, on June 28, 2024, he suffered a season-ending injury, cutting his 2024 season short. As he completes his recovery, Malachi aims to return to the field this season.

Transaction: Signed to a First Team contract as a Homegrown player through 2029, with an option for 2030.

About: Reid joined the academy in fall 2024 from Cedar Stars Academy – Bergen and has quickly made an impression since joining the 'Boys in Blue.' After participating in the first team's preseason training camp in Santa Barbara, California, he transitioned into competitive play with New York City FC II. The young forward has already scored three goals in MLS NEXT Pro action, including a two-goal performance against Crown Legacy FC to secure a 2-2 draw before a 5-4 victory in the penalty shootout. The following week, Reid continued his strong start, scoring the game-winning goal in a 2-0 victory over Columbus Crew 2 in the home opener at Belson Stadium. Reid has also made his mark on the international stage, representing Jamaica's U17 national team this year with four appearances, three goals, and four assists. His performances at the club and international levels highlight his potential as a top young attacking prospect. On March 22, 2025, New York City FC II, forward Seymour Reid made his professional debut in the 73rd minute after signing a Short-Term Agreement earlier that day from MLS NEXT Pro affiliate, New York City FC II. Reid becomes the youngest player to play for New York City FC overtaking midfielder James Sands. He also becomes the third player to sign a Short-Term Agreement and feature in the match.

On March 27, Reid—who initially signed an MLS NEXT Pro contract in January with the plan to become a Homegrown player at season's end—joins the First Team immediately and will occupy an Off-Roster Homegrown slot. The forward becomes New York City FC's 17th Homegrown signing in club history.

MARCH: 2W-1L-1D

• CROWN LEGACY FC 2(4)-2(5) NEW YORK CITY FC II

- ALL-TIME SEASON OPENERS: New York City FC II opened their 2025 MLS NEXT Pro Regular Season on the road for the third year in a row, this time playing Crown Legacy FC. When on the road for season openers, New York City FC II is 0W-2L-1D. The team's season opener record now stands at 0W-2L-2D, with one shootout win and another loss. New York City II has scored six goals over their four season openers: a combined three against Revs II in the team's first two season openers, two against Inter Miami CF II in 2024, and two against Crown Legacy FC in 2025. Players who have provided goals in openers include Forward John Denis (2), Defender Chris Gloster, Forward Ronald Arévalo, Midfielder Jonathan Shore, and Forward Seymour Reid.
- FIRST POINTS: Today's result is the first time since the inaugural 2022 MLS NEXT Pro season opener that New York City II gathered points in their first match of the year. Similarly, the team drew 2-2 as well and went to PKs against New England Revolution II but fell 4:3 on PKs.
- REID'S FIRST DEBUT: Jamaican International Seymour Reid made his New York City FC II debut and scored a brace to lead the team to a shootout after being down 2-0 in the 80th minute.
- NINTH SHOOTOUT WIN: This is New York City's ninth-ever shootout win in MLS NEXT Pro. Today's shootout was the very first one of the 2025 MLS NEXT Pro Regular Season.
- ELIAS' LEADS WITH MOST GAMES PLAYED: Elias leads the returning players in games played, as he has 74 games played over four seasons that he has played with the Boys in Blue. Midfielder Piero Elias, Forward Julien Lacher, Defender Chris Tiao, Forward Zidane Yañez, and Defender Jonathan Lopez all made returns to the team after featuring in seasons past.

• NEW YORK CITY FC II 2-0 COLUMBUS CREW 2

- FIRST WIN OF 2025: New York City FC II kicked off their home opener against Eastern Conference rival Columbus Crew 2, securing both their first victory of the season and their inaugural win over Columbus Crew 2. Their last win was at Belson Stadium on September 29th against FC Cincinnati 2 in a 3-1 victory.
- FIRST CLEAN SHEET IN 14 MATCHES: This is the first clean sheet for the Club in 14 MLS NEXT Pro Regular Season matches. The last clean sheet was recorded against Carolina Core FC.
- LACHER'S FIRST GOAL OF 2025: Julien Lacher scored his first goal of the season and his second career goal with New York City FC II. His first goal was scored against Toronto FC II on June 12, 2024.

MARCH CONTINUED...

- REID'S FIRST GOAL AT BELSON: Seymour Reid scored his first goal at Belson Stadium. Reid now tallies three goals this season after having previously scored a brace last match against Crown Legacy FC.
- TIAO'S FIRST ASSIST OF 2025: Midfielder and Captain Chris Tiao has recorded his first assist of the season as he provided it to Seymour Reid. With New York City FC II, Tiao has a total of four assists.
- MAC LEARNED'S DEBUT: Goalkeeper Mac Learned made his MLS NEXT Pro debut as he started in net in tonight's match.
- CAMILO PONCE'S DEBUT: Midfielder Camilo Ponce made his MLS NEXT Pro debut as he subbed in for Midfielder Peter Molinari in the 63rd minute.
- JACK LOURA'S DEBUT: Defender Jack Loura made his MLS NEXT Pro debut as he subbed in for Midfielder Piero Elias in the 90th minute.
- HOME DEBUTS: Midfielders Luka Sunjic and Peter Molinari, Forward Seymour Reid, and Defenders Max Murray, Prince Amponsah and Collin McCamy made their home debuts tonight.

• NEW YORK CITY FC II 2-1 CAROLINA CORE FC

- LEADING AT HALFTIME: New York City FC II held a 1-0 lead at halftime, marking the first time the team has had a lead going into the half over the first three matches of the 2025 MLS NEXT Pro Regular Season.
- LEADING THE EASTERN CONFERENCE: With this victory, New York City FC II leads the Eastern Conference side with seven points.
- SCORING MULTIPLE GOALS: With two goals in today's match, New York City FC II has now recorded multiple goals in three consecutive games. The Boys in Blue have scored six goals in three MLS NEXT Pro matches so far, maintaining a goals per game average of two per match.
- LEADING THE EAST IN GOAL DIFFERENTIAL: New York City II has the highest goal differential (3) in the Eastern conference, and the second in the league overall. Only St Louis City 2 and Houston Dynamo 2 have a higher goal differential than the Boys in Blue, with both Western Conference sides having six.
- PONCE'S FIRST GOAL AND START: Midfielder Camilo Ponce scored in his first MLS NEXT Pro start to open the match and give the home side the advantage in the 19th minute.
- LOURA'S FIRST START: Defender Jack Loura made his first MLS NEXT Pro start as well. Loura came on as a substitute late during the Club's Matchweek 2 fixture against Columbus Crew 2.

MARCH CONTINUED...

- o LACHER'S FIRST ASSIST: Forward Julien Lacher assisted Ponce's goal to record his first assist of the season. Lacher scored in Matchweek 2, making today's assist his second goal contribution in back-to-back matches.
- o GUARINO, RIZZO, THOMAS, AND GRAY MAKE THEIR MLSNP DEBUTS: Midfielders Leo Guarino and Dylan Thomas and defenders Gianluca Rizzo and Tayvon Gray all made their MLS NEXT Pro debuts.
- NEW YORK RED BULLS II 3-2 NEW YORK CITY FC II
 - o FIRST TIME AT SPORTS ILLUSTRATED STADIUM: New York City FC II and New York Red Bulls II met in Sports Illustrated Stadium for the first of three Hudson River Derby face offs in league play this season.
 - o CARRIZO ASSISTS TWICE: Midfielder Máximo Carrizo assisted both Lacher and McCamy's goals, notching his first and second assists of this regular season in this game. This is the first time in his career with New York City II that Carrizo has recorded two assists in one game.
 - o MCCAMY'S FIRST GOAL: Collin McCamy scored his first ever goal with New York City II in the second half of this Hudson River Derby to give the visitors the lead at the time.
 - o LACHER'S SECOND GOAL: Julien Lacher scored his second goal of the season that tied the match up initially for New York City to level things again early. Lacher has now made three consecutive goal contributions in as many games (2G, 1A). This is his longest stretch of goal contributions in his time with New York City FC II.
 - o SEBASTIANO MUSU'S DEBUT: Forward Sebastiano Musu made his debut with New York City II after coming on as a substitute in the 63rd minute.

APRIL: 0W-3L-1D

- CAROLINA CORE FC 5-0 NEW YORK CITY FC II
 - o MUSU'S FIRST-EVER START: Forward Sebastiano Musu recorded his first ever start with New York City II. This is Musu's second straight appearance for the team after coming on as a substitution in the Matchweek 3 game against New York Red Bulls II.
- NEW YORK CITY FC II 2(3)-2(5) FC CINCINNATI 2
 - o SECOND SHOOTOUT: This is the second time this season New York City FC II has gone into a penalty shootout. The first came during the Matchweek 1 in the season opener against Crown Legacy FC. In both matches that went to PKs, the result ended in a 2-2 draw, with New York City FC II scoring their second goal in the stoppage time in both games.

APRIL CONTINUED...

• NEW YORK CITY FC II 5-2 NEW YORK RED BULLS II

- FIVE GOALS: This is the first game for the team where they've scored over three goals since August 2024, when the team won 5-2 over Orlando City B. The last time the team scored at least three was in September 2024, when they won 3-1 over FC Cincinnati 2. In both of those specific instances, the Club was at home.
- REID'S HAT-TRICK: Forward Seymour Reid scored his fifth, sixth, and seventh goals of the season. This is Reid's first hat-trick of the season and the first hat-trick of the season for New York City FC II. Reid currently leads New York City FC II in goals this season and is the only player on the squad to have scored more than two goals.
- MOLINARI'S FIRST ASSIST: Midfielder Peter Molinari registered the first assist of his professional career with New York City FC II.
- GUARINO'S FIRST START: Midfielder Leo Guarino made his first career start for New York City FC II. Guarino has made six appearances, but this is the first one that has come with a start. Through 115 minutes played, he has one goal.
- ZEITZ'S DEBUT: Forward Uriel Zeitz made his Club debut, coming on in the 86th minute for teammate Seymour Reid.
- LIM'S FIRST GOAL: Midfielder Evan Lim scored his first career goal with New York City II. Lim has started four and appeared in six matches for New York City II this season.
- YAÑEZ'S AND LACHER FIRST AND SECOND ASSIST: Zidane Yañez and Julien Lacher provided the assists on Evan Lim's first goal, scored in the 90+3'. It marked Yañez's first assist with the club and Lacher's third of the season.

• NEW YORK CITY FC II 3-0 TORONTO FC II

- GOAL IN TWO MINUTES: The team's opener in the second minute was the first time this season where New York City FC II scored inside of the first five minutes of a match, and the third time within the first 15 minutes. Today's goal was scored by Forward Sebastiano Musu, while the other two goals were scored by Forwards Seymour Reid (v. New York Red Bulls in the seventh minute) and Julien Lacher (v. New York Red Bulls in the 12th minute).
- TWO GOALS IN 45': New York City FC II's two first-half goals today mark the first time this season the Club has scored at least two goals in the opening 45 minutes.
- TWO WINS IN A ROW: With the victory today, it is New York City FC II's second victory in regulation in a row. That has only happened one other time this season, when New York City II won two straight matches over Columbus Crew 2 and Carolina Core FC in March.
