MATCH PREVIEW

Austin FC earned a thrilling 2-1 victory over Minnesota United FC in the U.S. Open Cup Semifinal Round on Wednesday night at Allianz Field. That result – sealed by a 120th minute winner from CJ Fodrey – sees Austin advance to its first-ever major tournament final, which the Club will host at Q2 Stadium on Wednesday, October 1 against Nashville SC.

Before that Open Cup Final though, the Verde & Black have two highly important league matches to focus on in their push to secure a playoff spot, beginning with Sunday's tilt against Seattle. Currently occupying seventh place in the Western Conference, ATXFC could move within one match of clinching a place in the postseason if they are able to defeat the Sounders.

The Club will hope to continue getting big contributions from its young players. Fodrey's goal in Minnesota was the 21-year-old's second game-winner in the team's last three matches. 20-year-old Owen Wolff assisted Osman Bukari for Austin's opener against the Loons, his ninth goal contribution in nine games.

After three consecutive away fixtures, the Verde & Black will hope for a boost upon returning to the home comforts of Q2 Stadium.

Seattle also had a midweek match, falling 3-1 away against Inter Miami Tuesday night. The Sounders did get the better of Miami a few weeks ago though, besting them 3-0 in the Leagues Cup Final.

That loss was just Seattle's second in 17 matches since they took part in the FIFA Club World Cup in June, a run of form which helped them claim that Leagues Cup title and rise to fifth place in the Western Conference, four points above Austin. The Sounders' two top scorers, Danny Musovski and Albert Rusnak, both saw limited minutes in the meeting with Miami and will presumably have fresh legs for the weekend.

Seattle has an away record of 4-7-4 this season, ranking 10th best in the conference. In contrast to Austin's last two opponents Minnesota and Dallas – who are the two teams with the lowest average percent possession in MLS – the Sounders enjoy having the ball, ranking fifth in the league with an average of 53.7 percent. That stylistic contrast will pose an intriguing challenge for the Verde & Black in primetime this Sunday night.

HEAD COACH NICO ESTÉVEZ

Nico Estévez was announced as Austin FC's second-ever Head Coach on October 25, 2024. Estévez, a bilingual native of Valencia, Spain, has MLS, LaLiga, and international coaching experience.

Estévez began his coaching career in the youth system of his hometown club Valencia CF in 2004. He took his first head coaching role with Huracán Valencia CF in the Spanish third tier in 2011. In two (2) seasons with Huracán, Estévez led the team to a record of 41 wins, 34 draws, and 13 losses. He was named the Ramón Cobo Award winner as the league's best coach in 2012-2013.

Estévez then took charge of Valencia B in 2013, and eventually served as interim manager of Valencia's first team for two (2) matches in which he led them to a 1-0 win in the Copa del Rey and in a LaLiga match against Carlo Ancelotti's Real Madrid.

In 2014, Estévez moved to the United States to join Columbus Crew SC as the team's Director of Methodology. Estévez was promoted to first team assistant coach ahead of the 2017 season. He served in the same role for the United States Men's National Team from 2019-2021 and again in fall 2024 as a member of Mauricio Pochettino's USMNT coaching staff.

Estévez became head coach of FC Dallas in December 2021 and led Dallas to playoff qualification in his first two (2) seasons there in 2022 and 2023. In his first season with Dallas in 2022, he led the team to a 20-point improvement over its previous season – the largest year-over-year point increase in the club's history – and a third-place finish in the MLS Western Conference.
