MATCH NOTES

- Seattle Sounders FC travels to face New York City FC for a Decision Day matchup on Saturday, October 18 at Citi Field for its final regular-season match of the year (3:00 p.m. PT / Apple TV, 950 KJR AM, El Rey 1360 AM).
- Seattle has already qualified for the Audi 2025 MLS Cup Playoffs and secured the fifth seed in the Western Conference, currently sitting on 52 points (14-9-10). New York City FC is in fifth place in the Eastern Conference with 56 points (18-13-2).
- The Rave Green and NYCFC haven't met in MLS play since 2019, a 3-0 home victory for New York. Sounders FC holds a 2-3-0 record against NYCFC in regular-season play.
- The most recent meeting between the two sides was during the 2022 Concacaf Champions Cup Semifinals, a two-leg aggregate series that Seattle won 4-2. The Rave Green would advance to the tournament's final and defeat Pumas by an aggregate score of 5-2.
- Following a win over Real Salt Lake on Saturday, Seattle finished its 2025 regular season home slate with just one loss (10-1-6), the third time that the club has only lost once at home during the regular season (2017, 2020).
- Jordan Morris recorded his 38th assist in all competitions on Saturday against Real Salt Lake since joining the club in 2016, moving into sole possession of fourth place in club history.
- The win also brought Seattle to 52 points on the season, the 12th time in 17 years in MLS that the Rave Green have earned at least 50 points, second-most of all teams in MLS history.
- Following Saturday's match, Seattle begins its Audi 2025 MLS Cup Playoffs run, with dates, times and opponent for its Round One matchup to be determined upon the conclusion of Saturday's results league-wide.

2022 REWIND: CONCACF CHAMPIONS CUP SEMIS

Seattle and New York City FC have not met in MLS play since 2019, but the two clubs did face off three years ago in the 2022 Concacaf Champions Cup semifinals. The two-leg, aggregate series determined who would advance to the tournament final to face Pumas UNAM of Liga MX.

The first match was played at Lumen Field, a 3-1 win for the Sounders that saw Albert Rusnák, Jordan Morris and Nicolás Lodeiro all score for the Rave Green. Thiago Andrade scored for the visitors in the first half.

Seattle took its 3-1 lead to the East Coast a week later looking to secure its trip to the final. Raúl Ruidíaz scored for Seattle in the 28th minute. Santiago Rodríguez scored for New York, but the 4-2 aggregate scoreline was enough to set up a matchup against Pumas for the continental trophy. Sounders FC goalkeeper Stefan Frei notably recorded seven saves in the contest to help hold the lead, including a full-body, point-blank save against NYCFC's Talles Magno in the 73rd minute.

The Rave Green would go on to defeat Pumas 5-2 on aggregate in the final, becoming the first MLS team in history to win the Concacaf Champions Cup.

VARGAS NAMED NO. 1 ON 22 UNDER 22 LIST

Major League Soccer announced on October 8 its 2025 22 Under 22 list, with Sounders FC midfielder Obed Vargas named to the top spot for the first time in his career. Voted on by a panel of MLS staff, MLS Season Pass talent and club technical staff, the list honors the top young talent across all of MLS under the age of 22. Previously known as the 24 Under 24 list until 2018, Vargas joins Fredy Montero (2010) and DeAndre Yedlin (2014) as the only Sounders players to take home the top spot in the annual ranking.

“We couldn’t be prouder of Obed and the recognition he’s earned as the top young player in Major League Soccer,” said Sounders FC General Manager & Chief Soccer Officer Craig Waibel. “From the moment he joined our club, his maturity, work ethic and competitiveness have set him apart. Obed remains grounded and committed to getting better every day. This honor is a reflection not just of his individual talent, but of the collective effort of our coaches, teammates and development staff who’ve helped him grow within the Sounders system.”

Vargas, 20, jumped six spots in the rankings this year after coming in at number seven on the 2024 22 Under 22 list. The midfielder has made 38 appearances for the club in all competitions, recording four goals and seven assists. He started all three of the Rave Green’s three fixtures during the 2025 FIFA Club World Cup and played every minute of the club’s championship run at Leagues Cup 2025, helping claim the franchise’s ninth major trophy.

In 2025 MLS regular-season play, Vargas has started all 26 of his appearances with three goals and five assists. He ranks second on the team in minutes (2,273), third in completed passes (1,171) and seventh in pass percentage (89%), earning his first MLS All-Star nod earlier this year. Since signing with Sounders FC prior to the 2022 season at the age of 16, Vargas has made 127 appearances (105 starts), recording six goals and 11 assists in all competitions.

“Obed has earned this recognition through hard work and consistency from the moment he joined the club,” said Sounders FC Head Coach Brian Schmetzer. “He’s taken every opportunity to learn and improve, and he continues to be an important part of our group. We’re proud of the progress he’s made, and this is a well-deserved acknowledgment of his growth as a player.”

Vargas has also made an impact on the international stage, currently in Chile representing the Mexico U-20 Men’s National Team at the 2025 FIFA U-20 World Cup. He has started all of Mexico’s matches in the tournament so far, helping El Tri finish second in Group C. Mexico advanced to the Quarterfinals yesterday with a 4-1 win over Chile and will face Argentina on October 11. The midfielder earned his first cap with the Mexican senior team in October 2024 with a substitute appearance against the United States in a 2-0 victory. He was also called into Mexico’s U-23 squad during the September 2024 window for a training camp and friendlies. Vargas also made nine appearances for the U.S. Youth Men’s National Team at various levels before utilizing his one-time federation switch to Mexico.

The Anchorage, Alaska native joined Sounders FC Academy at the age of 14 from Cook Inlet Soccer Club, going on to play one season with Tacoma Defiance in 2021. While still with Defiance, he started and played 77 minutes in Seattle’s victory over Austin FC on July 22, 2021, at the time the third-youngest player in league history to play in a match (15 years and 351 days) before signing with the club following the season.

SOUNDERS FC WEEKLY NOTES

SEATTLE WINS LEAGUES CUP 2025

Seattle Sounders FC captured the Leagues Cup 2025 trophy on August 31 with a 3-0 win over Inter Miami CF, the first Leagues Cup title in club history. The title capped off a dominant run for the Rave Green throughout the tournament, compiling a 5-0-1 record and outscoring their opponents by 14 goals (16 goals for, two against).

Sounders FC cruised through Phase One play, becoming the only team in the tournament, MLS or Liga MX, to win all three of its matches, including a dominant 7-0 victory over Cruz Azul. The club then defeated Club Puebla in a shootout following a 0-0 draw in the Quarterfinals, setting up a Semifinals matchup against the LA Galaxy at Dignity Health Sports Park, which Seattle won 2-0 behind goals from Pedro de la Vega and Osaze De Rosario.

Seattle then hosted the final against Miami in front of a Leagues Cup and club-record single-match crowd of 69,314 at Lumen Field. De Rosario scored in the first half, with Alex Roldan bagging a penalty in the second half and Paul Rothrock adding the exclamation point, as goalkeeper Andrew Thomas kept the clean sheet to win 3-0.

Three members of the Rave Green won individual awards: Pedro de la Vega won Player of the Tournament, Andrew Thomas won Goalkeeper of the Tournament and Alex Roldan won Most Valuable Player for the Final.

THE RAVE GREEN OWN 'EM ALL

By winning Leagues Cup 2025, Seattle became the first soccer team in North America to win all five major trophies available to them - MLS Cup, Supporters' Shield, Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup, Concacaf Champions Cup and one Leagues Cup.

Since joining MLS in 2009, Seattle's nine trophies - four U.S. Open Cups, two MLS Cups, one Supporters' Shield, one Concacaf Champions Cup and one Leagues Cup - are the most among any team in MLS since 2009, and are three more than the next-closest team, the LA Galaxy.

August 31 marked Seattle's 13th final since joining MLS. The club holds a 8-3-2 record in those contests. It was also the fifth final that Seattle has played at home, boasting a perfect 5-0-0 record and tied the largest margin of victory ever in a final (3-0 win against Pumas UNAM in 2022 Concacaf Champions Cup Final).

Head Coach Brian Schmetzer has been at the helm for four of Seattle's nine titles (2016 and 2019 MLS Cups, 2022 Concacaf Champions Cup and 2025 Leagues Cup) and has reached eight different finals.

MORRIS CLIMBS THE ASSISTS CHART

Jordan Morris recorded his 38th all-competitions assist on Saturday against Real Salt Lake since joining the club in 2016, moving into sole possession of fourth place in club history and breaking a tie with Mauro Rosales. The Mercer Island native has provided helpers in some of the club's biggest moments, including three in postseason play and two in Concacaf Champions Cup action.

Morris also became the club's all-time leading goal scorer in all competitions earlier this year, now sitting at 88 goals since becoming a member of the Rave Green. Last year, he set a new career-high in single-season goals with 17 in all competitions and 13 in MLS play.

The forward signed with Seattle as a Homegrown Player prior to the 2016 season, going on to win the 2016 MLS Rookie of the Year following a 12-goal, four-assist season, helping Seattle secure its first MLS Cup title.

He was also named MLS Best XI in 2020, MLS Comeback Player of the Year in 2019 and a MLS All-Star in 2022 and 2023.

ANOTHER 50 POINT SEASON

With its win over Real Salt Lake on Saturday, Seattle now sits on 52 points, the 12th season in 17 years in MLS that the club has reached the 50-point mark. It is the second-most seasons reaching 50 points in MLS history.

Seattle has been a mainstay at the top of the Western Conference table since and a model of success since joining MLS in 2009, winning nine major trophies, the most of any team in that span.

Most 50-Point Seasons (MLS History)

Year	Goals
LA Galaxy	14
Seattle Sounders FC	12*
D.C. United	11
New York Red Bulls	10
FC Dallas	9

SOUNDERS FC WEEKLY NOTES

DOMINANCE AT LUMEN FIELD

The Rave Green concluded their MLS regular-season home slate this year with only one loss at Lumen Field, compiling a 10-1-6 record. Seattle joins 2025 Supporters' Shield-winning Philadelphia Union as the only teams in MLS with one loss at home this year.

It is only the third time that Seattle has lost one match at home in a regular season, also doing so in 2017 (11-1-5) and 2020 (7-1-2, shortened season due to the pandemic). Sounders FC reached the MLS Cup Final in the previous two campaigns.

Seattle has a 68.77% home winning percentage in the regular season since it joined the leagues in 2009, third among all teams in MLS history (including the now-defunct Chivas USA, Miami Fusion and Tampa Bay Mutiny). That number trails only LAFC (74.03%) and NYCFC (69.38%), though the Rave Green have played nearly 100 more home matches than either team.

Highest Regular-Season Home Winning Percentage (MLS History)

Team	Winning Percentage
LAFC	74.03%
New York City FC	69.38%
Seattle Sounders FC	68.88%
Miami Fusion	66.42%
Charlotte FC	66.42%

OSAZE WINS MLSNP PATHWAY PLAYER OF THE YEAR

MLS NEXT Pro announced on October 16 that Sounders FC forward Osaze De Rosario has won the 2025 Pathway Player of the Year award. The newly established award honors a player who demonstrated success at multiple levels of the pro player pathway in one season – excelling in two or more leagues across MLS NEXT, MLS NEXT Pro and MLS. De Rosario scored 10 goals for Tacoma Defiance, Sounders FC's MLSNP side, before signing a contract with the First Team in May, then went on to tally five goals for the Rave Green in all competitions.

De Rosario, 24, began the 2025 campaign with Tacoma with eight goals in the first five games of the season. Following his fast start in MLSNP, the forward signed a contract with the First Team on May 8. He has since scored five goals in 19 matches (six starts) for Sounders FC in all competitions, including four goals during the club's Leagues Cup 2025 title-winning run.

INTERNATIONAL SOUNDERS ROUNDUP

Six Sounders players recently returned from international duty. Obed Vargas (Mexico) and Reed Baker-Whiting (USA) both competed in the FIFA U-20 World Cup in Chile, with each team reaching the quarterfinals before losing to Argentina and Morocco, respectively. Vargas started all five of Mexico's matches in the tournament, including two 90-minute shifts against Morocco and Chile. Baker-Whiting appeared in four of five matches in the tournament for the United States, including a start against South Africa in its final Group Stage match.

Cristian Roldan was called up to the United States Men's National Team for a pair of friendlies against Ecuador and Australia. The midfielder made a substitute appearance in the 1-1 draw against Ecuador and started and played 76 minutes against Australia in a 2-1 win, recording an assist on both goals. He now has 41 career international caps and was part of the USMNT squad at the 2022 FIFA World Cup Qatar. He also recently appeared for the Stars and Stripes last month in a pair of friendlies, putting in a full 90-minute shift in a 2-0 win over Japan. Roldan played in all five of the USMNT's fixtures in the 2023 Concacaf Gold Cup and recorded an assist in a 6-0 win over Saint Kitts and Nevis. Roldan has 42 appearances (39 starts) for Seattle this season in all competitions, scoring two goals and recording a team-high 11 assists. Since being selected by Seattle in the First Round of the 2015 MLS SuperDraft, Roldan ranks second in club history with 388 appearances across all competitions, sixth with 44 goals and second with 68 assists.

Nouhou, 27, joined Cameroon for a pair of 2026 World Cup qualifying matches against Mauritius and Angola. The defender played every minute of both matches, defeating Mauritius 2-0 and drawing 0-0 with Angola. Nouhou now has 42 career international caps since making his debut for Cameroon in 2017. He played every minute in Les Lions Indomptables' three Group Stage matches at the 2022 FIFA World Cup, including the country's historic 1-0 win over Brazil. The defender was recently called up in September for a pair of World Cup Qualifiers, logging 90 minutes against Cape Verde. Cameroon currently sits in second place in CAF Group D with 19 points (5-1-4). Nouhou has 36 appearances (33 starts) in all competitions for Sounders FC this year, scoring two goals.

Minoungou, 23, earned his second career international callup after joining Burkina Faso last month for a pair of World Cup Qualifiers. The midfielder appeared in both matches Burkina Faso, defeating Sierra Leone and Ethiopia 1-0 and 3-1, respectively. Burkina Faso currently sits in second place in the CAF Group A standings with 21 points (6-1-3). Minoungou has 29 appearances (seven starts) in all competitions for Seattle this year, recording two goals and four assists.

Brunell, 18, joined the U.S. U-19 Men's Youth National Team for a camp in Marbella, Spain with friendlies against Northern Ireland and Belgium. The midfielder previously joined the U-19s last month for its Domestic Identity Camp in Georgia. Brunell also played for the U-18 MYNT in the UEFA Friendship Cup in Nyon, Switzerland, winning the title with a shootout win over Portugal. Brunell signed with Seattle in July and has scored two goals in seven appearances (three starts) for the club in all competitions.
